SEEING AROUND.

They are sitting around upon barrels and chairs.
Discussing the town and their neighbor's affairs.
But the look of content that is seen on each face.
Seems to say, "I have found my appropriate place."
Sitting around.

In bar-rooms and groceries calmly they sit,
And solemnly chew borrowed tobacco and spit.
While the stories they tell and the jokes that they crack, Show their hearts have grown hard and undoubtedly black.
While sitting around.

The "sitter around" is a man of no means.
And his face wouldn't pass for a quart of white beans.
Yet he somehow or other contrives to exist,
And is frequently seen with a drink in his fist.
While sitting around.

The loungers they tell not, nor yet do they spin.
Unless it be yarns while enjoying their gin.
They are people of leisure, yet often
'tis true,
They shudder to the work they're intending to do.
While sitting around.

They have a habit of talking of other men's wives,
As they vantage up sticks with their horn-handled knives.
They're a scaly old set, and when ever you go,
You'll find them in groups or strung out in a row.
Sitting around.—[Ex.]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Juvenile Ball Given by Misses Bessie and Julia Lamont.

Revival of Silly, Groundless Stories Concerning Miss Cleveland.—Miss Lamont declined to give a ball for the benefit of a National University.

One of the prettiest juvenile balls of the holidays in Washington took place the other afternoon at the home of Secretary Lamont. Miss Bessie and Miss Julia Lamont entertained all their school friends from four to seven to meet their guests, Miss Elsie Cochrane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F.
Cochran, of New York, who just arrived to pay them a holiday visit.
Mrs. Lamont gave up the whole house to the children, and there was never a merrier gathering. The drawing-rooms were completely stripped of furniture and rugs and the polished floors were perfect for dancing. Southern silk and spruce the walls, caught here and there with rosettes and streamers of scarlet ribbon. The doorways were framed in green, and the effect was very pretty. A collection of all the sweets and iced cakes to the youthful heart was served in the dining-room.

There has been a revival of the wicked and groundless stories to the effect that Ruth Cleveland, the president's oldest child, is afflicted with leprosy trouble. During the last three weeks several newspapers have stated that this little girl was in a sanitarium at Kirkville, Mo., under treatment from Dr. Still, "a famous bone doctor." Others have said that the child was at Evanston, Ill., in a sanitarium, or was about to be sent there.

These statements have been circulated chiefly in the west. Of course they are false. Anyone might be convinced any afternoon by seeing Ruth and her sister Ethel hurried into a carriage at the white house door by their nurse to be taken for a ride. The president's children are not secluded.
When the weather is clear and warm they play in the white house yard. Anyone can see them. Ruth is as well and as bright as any parents could wish their child to be.

Another bill to establish a national university at Washington has been introduced in both the senate and the house. It provides for a university of the highest type, vests the government of the university in a board of 16 representatives, with the president of the United States at its head, and a university council, embracing said board and 12 eminent educators representing as many institutions of high rank and belonging to as many states; the results to have charge of all business affairs; the council of all else.

It further authorizes the university to establish cooperative relations with other institutions of the country; prohibits partisan and sectarian preference in any form; makes admission depend on competency only, and so guards the degrees to be granted as to prevent the interests of all collegiate institutions entitled to recognition.

CHOICE PAINTINGS TO BE SOLD.

Two valuable New York Collections Will Go to Auction.

Among the important collections of pictures in the United States those of former Park Commissioner David H.
King, Jr., and the late William Schaus occupy this rank. Both of them are to be sold by auction in February at New York—Mr. King's collection in the early part of the month and the Schaus pictures on February 28. The proposed disposition of such valuable works is causing the highest interest in art circles. Mr.
King resigned the presidency of the park commission on October 1 last. It is understood that the recent death of his wife while abroad and the condition of his health are among the reasons that have induced him to dispose of his collection, which is particularly rich in choice examples of the early English school.

her boilers. The cruiser Boston has been ordered to sail for Yokohama,

A New Compound.

The discovery recently of a new com-exhibit the peculiar quality of solidifying under the action of heat, and to again revert to the liquid state at a temperature below 32 degrees tem-this substance the name of crostase has been given.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr.
King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr.
King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. It is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and colds. Free trial bottle at Williams & Wells Drug Store.

A Powerful Thing.

In sentencing James B. Wilson, editor of the Indianapolis People to two years in the penitentiary Judge Baker said:

"The man who deliberately scatters abroad public libels calculated to lead the young, the rising generation, astray, it seems to me, doing nothing that is almost unpardonable. The thought of destroying a human life by means of this obscenity is a fearful thing.
I would rather a thousand times that the midnight marauder should break into my house and rob me of everything I have in the world than that the disseminator of this kind of literature should gain an audience among my children."

GOLD IN AN OLD TABLE.

Curiosity of an Appraiser Reveals the Hoard of a Dead Thief.

Following the death of Henry Rodewald, a prosperous grocer of Indianapolis, Ind., it became necessary to appraise his personal property. Among his effects was a rickety old table, standing in an unused corner. The appraiser placed its value at ten cents and it was thrown aside. Curiously afterward led him to open the drawer under the table, and he found therein a package containing $1750 in gold.
Further appraisement has been postponed until a careful investigation can be made of every bit of portable property belonging to the estate.

Where Water is Deep.

A deeper spot in the ocean than yet known has been found recently by the surveying ship Penguin in latitude 23 degrees 40 minutes south, longitude 175 degrees 15 minutes west. A fault in the ocean floor was caused the sounding to be abandoned after 4,900 fathoms had been run out without touching bottom.

Royalty Stole for Charity.

Princess Christian, second surviving daughter of the queen, and Princess Victoria, Princess Christian's eldest daughter, appeared as public vocalists in the Windsor choral society's performance of "The Messiah," on New Year's night. Both sang several solos.
The performance was given in aid of charity.

Primitive Artificial Teeth.

Artificial teeth were formerly made of hippopotamus or walrus ivory. This material, however, proved unsuitable, as it was subject to decay, and the corrosion from the acids of the mouth made the breath offensive.

BIG ELECTRIC ROAD PLANNED.

Scheme on Foot to Connect Toledo with Chicago and Milwaukee.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the register of deeds of Illinois, Wis., for the Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha Street Railway company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The objects are to build an electric street railway line from Chicago, Milwaukee county, south through Racine City and county and Kenosha City and county to the Illinois state line. The principal men interested are Matthew Sluoh, of Mount Clemens, Mich., and A. W.
Cane, manager of the Bell City Street Railway company, has made a deal to transfer the cars over his line in Racine. The projectors said that the road would be completed within one year if they could get the right of way. They propose to carry passengers, express matter and mail. Racine citizens are enthusiastic over the matter, and will do all that is necessary to help the projectors to connect the city with Chicago and Milwaukee by an electric line.

THE KIEL CANAL.

Dimly Experienced by Large Ships in Passing Through the Channel.

There seems to be a great difficulty to regulate the traffic of the Kiel canal by large ships. A little over two weeks ago the Brazilian man-of-war 24 de Maio ran aground in the Kiel canal, passing through. She was absolutely fast near Kiel, and was stranded for several days, only after the flood tide had set in. On the 15th the steamer Hamburg ran aground in the canal just east of Hamburg; tug boats were sent to her assistance, and the locks were opened at flood tide and she was immediately thereafter in the hopes of increasing the depth of the canal by a few inches.
The British steamer Xanthippe also ran aground in the Kiel canal, and was stranded near Hamburg. The canal at present is anything but satisfactory, and it has happened that the passage, instead of being under within 11 hours, as provided in the rules and regulations for the use of the canal, has taken as long as 40 hours.

POISONED BY IMPURE VIRUS.

Amos Fry's Family in a Serious Condition and Some Members May Die.

The family of Amos Fry, near Boston, Ind., is in a terrible condition as a result of impure vaccination. Several weeks ago one of the neighbors was vaccinated and Mr. Fry determined to vaccinate his four children from virus taken from the arm of the neighbor.
The operation was performed. The four children were taken violently ill and eruptions appeared over their entire bodies, from the size of a dime to that of a half-dollar. Since Amy Fry, 27 years of age, was compelled to have her arm amputated, and is so ill that she probably cannot recover. All the children are suffering from blood-poisoning of a severe type, and all of them may die. Physicians say that the virus has permeated their entire system and even should they recover they will be physical wrecks.

SCHOOL FOR FIREMEN.

Successful Fire Chiefs of the Country
Favor Hiram's Plan.

Simon Brentano's project for a school of fire extinguishment in New York will be carried into effect during the year 1896. Mr. Brentano will have identified with him in the enterprise many of the most successful fire chiefs of the United States and other influential men who have made a study of his proposed system. Among them are Henry Hills, secretary of the National Association of Fire Engineers; Chief Hon-nor and Sweeney, of the New York department; Chief Webber, of Boston; Chief Foley, of Milwaukee; George O.
Patterson, head of the New York fire insurance patrol; Prof. Barrett, of Chicago, and Edward W. Johnson. The aim of the proposed school of fire extin-guishment is to elevate the work of firemen to the dignity of a profession and to reduce to scientific principles the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

Why the Home Paper is the Best of Times and

Only those who have lived for years on a farm or in a small town can realize the power and fascination of the home paper. It occupies a place that no other publication can fill. The home newspapers come first always.
Everybody looks through every column to see if the editor has put his or her "name in the paper." Each bit of local gossip is read and discus-ed. Sometimes it is a birth, sometimes a death, sometimes a marriage.
No matter what it is—every name mentioned is familiar to all, and for this reason alone the home paper is prized above and beyond anything the "literary fellows" in cities can produce.—[Winchester Democrat.]

Difficulties of An Editor.

To run a newspaper without occasionally publishing an item that is untrue or gives offense, is like running a railroad without having snafus and accidents. It can't be done. No man in the world is so much imposed upon as the editor of a newspaper. Pushed with work constantly, he must rely upon second and third parties for information as to the events that transpire. Frequently statements are received from reliable people, but which are subsequently discovered to be without any foundation in fact. If, therefore, kind reader, you find yourself aggrieved by any statement in your home paper keep the fact in mind.
Do not "fly off the handle," but go to out of ten, if your case is just, you will be received like a gentleman and the correction made with pleasure. But ing about the editor and his paper with scant courtesy when you visit the office. There are but a few of us who are entirely faultless.—[Ex.]

General Harrison on the Presidency.

President Benjamin Harrison will discuss "The Presidential Office" very comprehensively in his "This Country of Ours" series, in the following February Ladies Home Journal. He will detail the provisions and methods of electing a Chief Magistrate, and will have much to say hearing upon the eligibility of a President for re-election; will give views as to the length of the Presidential term, and express rather decided opinions relative to the announcement to which Presidents are subjected from office-seekers. The article is practical, based upon experience and observation, and is very timely.
Gen Harrison believes that the fears (expressed by the framers of our Constitution) that the power of the office is such as to enable an ambitious individual to secure an indefinite succession of terms have never been realized. "In practice the popular opinion has limited the eligibility of the President to one re-election. But some of our leading and most thoughtful public men have challenged the wisdom of the four-year term, and have advocated six years, usually accompanied with a prohibition of a second term. And unless some method can be devised by which a considerable part of the four-year term must be given to hearing applicants for office and to making appointments, it would be wise to give the President, by extending the time, a better chance to show what he can do for the country. It must be admitted, also that inelegibility to a second term will give to the Executive action greater independence. It seems unlikely, however, that any change in the Presidential term will be made unless some unexpected event should stir into action a thought that is now of a theoretical rather than a practical cast."

Hartford Republican

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING
R. A. ANDERSON, Editor.
Subscription, $1.25 per year.
FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1896.

Hon. Henry S. Tyler, Mayor of Louisville, died Wednesday morning.

Hon. E. P. McAdams, of Hawesville, is a candidate for Delegate to the National Republican Convention from the Second District.

Hon. J. C. W. Beckham has been chosen by the Nelson county Democratic Committee to make the race for Representative to fill the place made vacant by the death of Mr. Wilson.

The marvelous success of Dr. W. G. Hunter as a politician, evidently arises from a cause more powerful than the mind of man. The Doctor is doubtless carried on to victory by the left hind foot of a rabbit, killed in a graveyard in the dark of the moon.

Gov. Bradley's Message is meeting with the hearty approval of every Kentuckian. It is a manly document, and shows clearly the idea of a great man on the living questions of the day. Gov. Bradley should be supported by the Legislature and ere his term of office expires we will see a great change for the better in this proud old State.

Dr. A. D. James, State Senator from this District, is a candidate for Delegate from the State-at-large to the National Republican Convention. Dr. James is a shrewd politician and did a vast amount of good work for the party in the last campaign. In the event Dr. Hunter goes to the United States Senate, he will likely be a candidate for Congress in the Third District.

Dr. Hunter is 64 years old, was a surgeon in the Union army during the war, has served several terms in the Kentucky Legislature; was a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1880, and was one of the famous 306 who so gallantly stood by Grant to the last. He was also a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892. He represented the Third Kentucky District in the fiftieth Congress, and was elected to Fifty-fourth Congress.

The announcement that Mr. E. T. Frauks, of Owensboro, will be a candidate for Congress from the Second District this year, calls to mind the fact, that, at the Appellate Convention at Leitchfield in 1894, he announced in a speech that as sure we (his hearers) were living, he would be elected as Congressman from the Second District that year. As a matter of fact Mr. Frauks was not elected, nor did he even get the nomination in 1894. It is to be hoped that Mr. Frauks made a mistake in his Leitchfield speech, and that he meant to say that he would be elected as Congressman from the Second District in 1896, as sure as we were living.

MAKING A RECORD.
Our Republican Legislators should bear in mind, if they do not, that they are making a record, that will play a prominent part in the success, or the disaster, of the party in the future.

It must be remembered that the actions of our Representatives at Frankfort smacks loudly of a scramble for office and prestige. At any rate, that is the impression produced by their actions up to date. The Senatorial fight instead of being waged with the idea of selecting a statesman, who would reflect honor on his party and State, seems to have been conducted with view of obtaining self aggrandizement.

The wishes of constituents, it seems, are not consulted in a very large measure. The masses of the party are not very well pleased with things at Frankfort.

They remember that the Republicans were placed in power for the purpose of correcting abuses that have long made havoc with the interest of our State.

Our representatives should be awakened to a sense of their duty. Whether the awakening be rude or gentle, it should be administered, nevertheless, else the Republican party will find itself in the hands of as complete a machine, as ever dominated the Democratic party.

Gentlemen at Frankfort should remember that they were sent there to work; to lift the State out of the true worst state in which she has been running, and not to play a game of politics, at the expense of a long afflicted people.

There is one consolation, however, to be found among things that have transpired at Frankfort. The Message of Gov. Bradley is a business-like document. It shows that he, at least, is going to do what he said he would do when making his campaign. He wants things improved—and if the Legislature acts upon his advice, things will be changed. Gentlemen at Frankfort, however, should remember that they are making a record that will tell in the future either for good or bad.

WASHINGTON.

The Republican Congressmen Oppose Borrowing Money And Favor an Economic Policy.

Hon. John W. Lewis Very Popular With His Brethren.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11, '96. As my former letters to THE REPUBLICAN, from Lebanon, Ky., seemed to find favor in your eyes, or at least, their way into your columns, I will endeavor to renew my acquaintance with your readers from my temporary home at the Nation's Capital. Many of your readers, no doubt, are denied easy access to the city dailies and therefore fail of getting full and detailed statements of what our Republican House of Representatives is doing to relieve the country from the evils brought upon it by the present Democratic Administration, and its last Congress.

There have been two important measures passed the House designed to afford relief to our distressed Treasury. Two bills passed within a week when it would have taken a Democratic Congress eighteen months to pass any bill for the same purpose. This demonstrates the difference in capacity of a Republican and Democratic House to transact business.

Before passing to a consideration, however, of these bills, it is my purpose to refer to the President's special message to Congress on the Venezuela incident. It was that message that made necessary the second special message calling upon Congress for relief to enable him to meet the emergency he had created by his first. The country was disposed to applaud the patriotism of the President's war galvanic shock. It caused only a quivering of the limbs and nothing more. The patient is too far gone to recover. Having issued a war message, in two days he runs from the effect of it. Calls on Congress to enable him to assert himself against England, and all comers, and on the morrow whines like a whipped child "we are busted." Issues a sensational and unnecessary message creating a panic in the business centers of this country, and causing an immediate flow of gold from our shores to England, and beholding what his move on the chess board of politics has done, when he was playing for prestige, he becomes stamped, loses his head, and makes a spectacle of himself by threatening the Nation's credit while trying to sustain it. Truly he is a wonderful Grover, if not a great one.

In response to his call for help the House of Representatives acted promptly, as it did in the Venezuela matter. In the Emergency Revenue Bill the House has given him a cure for a four ills, and it is at that bill I desire to say a word of explanation. The bill is strictly what it purports to be an "Emergency Revenue Bill" for temporary purposes. It should not be accepted by any one as embodying the views of the Republican House on the tariff question. It would have been impossible to have prepared a tariff bill, such as the Republicans will prepare and pass in 1897 when we will have a Republican President, in time to meet the exigencies of the case and the distressed condition of the Treasury. The Republicans were patriotic enough to meet the President half way and pass such an act as they thought he would sign, and still leave him the poor privilege of clinging to his theories. The bill they did pass is so far a head of the miserable ruinous bill of Wilson, Goran and Co., the country will rejoice, if it escapes a veto, and will regain some of its accustomed prosperity, as under Republican rule. It is the purpose portion of them and get the benefit of the rest Congress would not give them. Wonderful, is Grover, the Good.

I have taken up too much space and must cut short without giving that account of our representative which was my intention when this letter was commenced. Mr. Lewis is very popular with his brethren and is making himself a general favorite with the members, which will enable him eventually, to be of the utmost usefulness to his district. His fine legal ability has been justly recognized by Speaker Reed, by assigning him to the important and dignified Committee of the Judiciary. The revenue bill which he helped to pass, if it becomes a law, will enable us to meet our current expenses without a monthly deficit, and when Mr. Lewis is returned to the 55th Congress, which he will be, with a good Republican in the White House, we will then give the country a tariff for protection, with an ample sugar bounty clause and magnificent reciprocity provisions which will make this country again boom as it always has done under Republican Administrations. C. J.

HARDINSBURG.

News Notes of a Personal Nature.

Post-master Joe B. Cox, and Miss Blanch Mosely represented this place at the Atlanta Exposition.

Rev. S. W. Shelton preached interesting sermons at the M. E. Church, morning and evening, on last Sunday.

Mr. Frank Haswell representing a wholesale saddlery house in Louisville, is out for a two months trip in the interest of his house.

Attorneys began taking proof in the case of Beeler vs Beard last Monday.

The Breckenridge Normal College began the second term of this year last Monday. Several new students have matriculated, and the institution enters this term under the most favorable circumstances. The faculty have every reason to believe that this will be the most successful year the College has yet experienced.

The Board of Directors of the bank of Hardinsburg met last week to elect officers and transact the usual business. The old officers and Board of Directors were retained. The business of the bank has steadily increased since its beginning, and it is now one of the safest financial institutions in the State. Mr. B. F. Beard is president, Mr. Will Miller Vice President, Mr. M. H. Beard Cashier and Messrs Morris Eskridge, R. M. Jolly and G. W. Beard directors.

Mr. Burrel Beard, who is an applicant for the penitentiary wardenship at Eddyville, came home from Frankfort Saturday and went back again last Monday. Mr. Beard is making a gallant fight for the position which he desires, and as richly merits the position as any Republican who ever aspired to office in this old Commonwealth. Mr. Beard has the endorsement of his fellow countrymen to a man. He is the man to have the place.

The county Board of Supervisors completed their work last week. The board was composed of Maj. Horace Scott, Hon. Jonas D. Wilson, Mr. Alonzo Bennett, Mr. John Butler, and Mr. F. K. Rhodes. We understand that about one hundred and eighty-five persons were cited to appear before the board at its next meeting to show cause, if any, why their tax should not be raised.

Rev. E. E. Pate recently began a series of meetings at this place, to extend over a period of two weeks. He preached for one week and a half without any apparent result, and then closed the meetings. It seems in these days that a pastor cannot bring about a revival of religion in his own church, without he imports foreign talent into his pulpit who is either to some extent a "crank" or else has a hobby which he rides to death.

This peaceful little country town has, during the last week, been in the throes of a hog law discussion. For the last two years we have had a hog law here and it has proven a success. The only thing that is objectionable to this law, is that it is hard to enforce, in its infirmities. This however is the fault of the officials and not of the law. There have, however, always been some bitter opponents to the law. They have lost no opportunity to denounce it. This element brought such pressure to bear on the outgoing board of trustees, that they repealed it. The new board of trustees declared that they re-enact it, and so there are interesting discussions on the subject, pro and con. Speaking of hogs reminds me of a celebrated hog case which occurred here prior to passing the hog law. A certain gentleman had been so annoyed by hogs, that he resorted to heroic measures to obtain relief, seizing his shot-gun one fine day he went out into his garden and shot down a hog that was sportively rooting up his garden. The owner of the hog brought suit for damages. The man who had killed the hog was a prominent lawyer, and so defended his own case. In his address to the jury, he told them that the hogs actually got into his parlor and rooted over his piano. For the more he said that he actually could not get down on his knees to offer up prayers to his Maker, without being in constant danger of being rooted by a hog. ROMAN HOOD.

Cheap Enough.

A jury in Indianapolis, Ind., awarded a verdict of $5,000 in favor of a young woman who sets up an unusual cause for action. The plaintiff says that for the last nine years her time and attention has been monopolized by a young man who has courted her and kept company with her steadily to the exclusion of all other gentlemen. At the end of nine years the young man explained that he never contemplated matrimony, but was "merely trying to enjoy life as he went along." Thereupon the object of his monomaniacal devotion brought suit for $5,000 for the time she has wasted and the services she has rendered. The jury gave half the amount she demanded.

Not knowing the principals in this case we are not in position to speak positively on the justice of the verdict, but there can be no doubt concerning the principles involved. Generally speaking, $555 a year is cheap enough rent for a hoosier sweetheart—(Guthrie (Os.) Leader.

Specifications for Court House Fence.

It will be let to the lowest and best bidder executing bond with satisfactory security on Monday the 27th day of January, 1896, at the Court House in Hartford, Ky., a contract for laying base of stone around the Court House and grounds, together with a sidewalk of brick on the outside of the fence.

SPECIFICATIONS.—Stone base 20 inches wide, not less than 12 inches thick of single stone, laid in cement; the surface to be 12 inches beneath the ground. Upon this base to be stone 22 inches high, (5 feet, not less than five feet long) and 12 inches thick; all that part above the ground (10 inches) to be cut smooth to perfect alignment, and curved on its top edge upon which the iron mill is to set, with holes put in every six feet to receive the posts of the iron railing.

At the ends where these stones, each five feet in length, come in juxtaposition the joints must be accurately fitted, and joined with cement. The entire work is to be done in first-class masonry, of stone that is known to be durable.

The pavement to be of brick with stone curbing, cut and fitted in good workmanlike order, viz.: the stone composing the curbing to be not less than 18 inches wide, 2 1/2, or more, feet long, and 6 inches thick, with close joints and straight alignments.

The side walk to be 10 feet wide in front, 8 feet in the rear, 6 feet on either side.

The surface of the brick pavement to come within 10 inches of the top of the line of stone upon which the fence is to rest.

The yard of the Court House is to be graded and sodded, by sloping the ground in such a manner as will prevent washing, and a gutter of cement against the fence at the foot of the stone, with round openings through the basement stone of the fence to lead the water to small stone gutters across the pavement at intervals of 60 feet.

No bids will be received unless accompanied by good and sufficient bond, which must be approved by the Committee before bids are let.

An unknown exchange pays this tribute to winter: "It snows and blows and stings your nose—makes all creation shiver; it bites your toes, incursures your woe, and freezes up the river. The frost nips all, both great and small, this dismal, dreary winter; it freezes type, it bursts the pipe, and vexes so the printer. So let her roll—we mean the coal—it takes the cash in winter; now please be kind, and make up your mind to settle with the printer."

LIKE DARIUS GREEN.

Thrilling Adventure of a Lithuanian and His Flying Machine.

Frightened, Excited Villagers Think Him a Vampire from Italy, and Bring Him and His Machine to Grief with a Rifle Ball.

Jan Holodnock, a poor Lithuanian living at Cranberry, a mining hamlet near Hazelton, B.C., thinks he has invented a flying machine that will fly. He tried it one night and came to grief in a different way from Darius Green.

Under the pretense of being ill, Jan has held aloof from his fellow countrymen and devoted most of his time and labor to his invention, which he jealously guarded in the attic of his home. One Saturday night he decided to test the machine. He gathered his apparatus together and by traversing unfrequented alleys in order not to attract attention succeeded in reaching a huge culm bank which towers above the village. From the dirt bank the inventor was to jump and fly away. But several of the villagers saw the queer-looking form outlined against the sky and moving along the top of the culm pile like a huge vampire.

The report spread that a devil or some terrible monster was threatening the village. A crowd rapidly gathered and soon became an excited mob. Several shots were fired at Jan. The inventor, realising his danger, leaped from his position and flapped his wings. There were whirling sounds of rapidly-revolving wheels and the machine floated over the heads of the now thoroughly-frightened mob below, one of whom aimed a rifle at the supposed monster and fired. The shot plainly took effect, for the machine collapsed, and falling rapidly, struck the ground with much force.

The villagers were afraid to approach the gruesome object, but the more bold gradually drew near. They heard moans coming from the wreck of the machine and presently they were amazed to see Jan, badly bruised, encircled in a network of steel wires and canvas. He was taken from the wreck and then he explained the affair to his startled friends. He was badly bruised, but not seriously hurt. Jan says that if the rifle ball had not smashed one of the main levers he would have been able to demonstrate the power of his machine to move in any direction, ascend or descend and to fly against opposing currents of air.

FLEET OF STEEL CANAL BOATS.

Ordered Built by the Cleveland Steel Canal Boat Company—Their Advantages.

The Cleveland Steel Canalboat company has awarded to Lewis Nixon, of Elizabeth, N. J., the contract to build 12 steel boats, having a total length of a quarter of a mile. This is the first fleet of boats of this kind ordered. It marks a new era in cheaper and safer transportation to the seaboard.

Each boat will be 100 feet long, 18 feet beam and 12 feet depth of hold. Each will be strong enough to carry freight on the lakes, where the storms are often as severe as on the sea. The fleet will carry 3,000 tons of cargo. It has storage capacity of 100,000 bushels of wheat.

With an unbroken transit direct to the eastern mills, or delivered along-side foreign-going steamships at their wharves in New York, it is expected that an appreciable lessening of cost will be obtained. The boats are to be built at the Crescent ship yard and are to be completed by May 1, 1906.

WAS FULL OF MINNOWS.

Boys Engineer Discover Why the Broken Hose to Work Property.

Ryron Ghent, a Santa Fe engineer who pulls a train in the Kaw valley between Topeka and Kansas City, Kan., tells a remarkable story. He says while running in a dense fog one morning recently he observed that the air supply was not being handled properly. He stopped the train, and after examining the various appliances of the pump and finding that none were disabled he removed the covering from the air-drum and was astonished to find the bottom clogged with the passage to the train, several hundred tiny minnows, which had been pumped in. Ghent says that is a common occurrence in the winter fogs, as the small fishes are so light they easily support themselves in the dense atmosphere.

IMMENSE GOLD NUGGET FOUND.

Came from North Carolina and Weighs Nearly Thirty-Two Pounds.

Not a little excitement was aroused in Salisbury, N. C., the other day by the announcement of the finding at El Dorado, Montgomery county, of a large gold nugget weighing thirty-two pounds and seven ounces avoirdupois and worth $20,000 or $30,000. A similar discovery was made last summer, when a number of large nuggets were unearthed, two at Crawford, Stanley county, being 10½ and 6½ pounds respectively. This last find is one of the largest known, and will put hundreds to work looking for the pockets and placers that exist in this section, covering an area of several counties.

A VALUABLE DOCUMENT.

New Light on the Venezuelan Boundary Dispute.

Clearly Shows That England Had No Idea of Claiming the Great Wealth of the Region.

In the last few days the state department has made a discovery of considerable importance to the Venezuelan boundary dispute, which throws new documentary light on the British contention of ownership west of the Schomburgk line and Lord Salisbury's refusal to agree to arbitration east of that line. In the opinion of those officials who are engaged in studying the various phases of the controversy, this official document demonstrates that England had no idea of claiming a large part of Venezuela until Schomburgk's scientific explorations had disclosed the great wealth of the region, and that she then determined to make exorbitant claims, trusting that part of them would stick. It is also their opinion that the document supplies a large part of Salisbury's reply to Olney by showing that the English premier has not been entirely disingenuous in his relation of matters of fact. Lord Salisbury in undertaking to correct Mr. Olney's statement that the dispute began at least as early as 1814, which he says is founded on misconception, declares that the dispute on the subject of the frontier did not in fact commence until after the year 1860, and he then proceeds to narrate the true circumstances connected with the marking of what is called the Schomburgk line.

The newly-discovered document consists of a letter from Viscount Lanesdown (afterwards Earl Granville), British under secretary of state for foreign affairs, to Sir James Stephen, permanent under secretary for the colonies, written under instructions from Lord Palmerston, secretary of foreign affairs, for the guidance of Lord John Russell, secretary for war and colonies. This important letter shows exactly what went on inside the British cabinet at the time. It will be remembered that Schomburgk had been sent out by the Royal Geographical society in 1858, with funds supplied by the government, to explore the Orinoco river, and that on his return to England in 1859, and apparently as a result of his familiarity with the resources of that country, the government chose him as the most available person to select the richest territory in Guiana, which would naturally constitute England's share in any subsequent division. The note is as follows:

"Foreign Office, 18 March, 1860. 'Sir: I am directed by Viscount Palmerston to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th inst., enclosing copies and extracts of despatches and their enclosures from Sir Light, governor of British Guiana, relative to the expediency of an arrangement being made with the Brazilian, Venezuelan and Netherlands governments, by which the boundaries of British Guiana may be accurately defined. 'With reference to that part of your letter in which you state that Lord John Russell considers it to be important that the boundaries of British Guiana should be ascertained and agreed upon, if possible, and that Mr. Schomburgk's researches in those parts have qualified him in a peculiar manner to be of use, should the services of any person acquainted with the geography of British Guiana be required for fixing the boundaries of the British territory, I am to state to you that the course of proceeding which Lord Palmerston would suggest for the consideration of Lord John Russell is that a map of British Guiana should be made out according to the boundaries described by Schomburgk; that the said map should be accompanied by a memoir, describing in detail the natural features which define and constitute the boundaries in question and that copies of this map and memoir should be delivered to the governments of Venezuela, of Brazil and of the Netherlands, as a statement of the British claim. That in the meanwhile British commissioners should be sent to assist and mark on the ground, in order to mark out by permanent erections the line of boundary so outlined by Great Britain. It would then rest with each of the three governments above mentioned to make any objection which they may desire to bring forward against these boundaries and to state the reasons upon which such objections might be founded. In those parts where the line of boundary is not clearly defined, the British government will give such answers to the objections as may appear proper and just. 'Lord Palmerston further considers that it would be expedient that the Brazilian detachment should be required to withdraw from Pirara, and that the line in command should be informed that any claim which Brazil may imagine itself to have to that village should be stated to the Brazilian government to that of Great Britain, in order that it may be discussed and settled between the two governments. I have, etc. (Signed) Lanesdown. 'To James Stephen, Esq. 'In reference to the last paragraph, it may be stated that Brazil did withdraw from Pirara, and that the southern boundary of British Guiana has now advanced over 100 miles beyond that point.

Killed by a Brass Door Key. Daniel Haggar, a resident of Paw Paw, Mich., died recently from causes which the doctors were unable to explain. Before his death in a delirium Haggar said he had swallowed a large brass door key. The doctors held a post-mortem examination, and sure enough a brass key was found in his stomach. The poison produced by corroding of the key caused death.

A Pointer for Preachers.

Preachers now and then are called upon to administer stinging rebukes to occupants of pews. We hear of a minister who was annoyed by people giggling, talking and generally disturbing the services. He paused, looked at the disturbers and said: "I am always afraid to rebuke those who misbehave in church for this reason. 'Some years ago as I was preaching, a young man who sat before me was constantly talking, laughing and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the services a gentleman came to me and said: 'Sir, you have made a great mistake. That young man is an idiot.' Since then I have always been afraid to rebuke those who misbehave lest I should repeat that mistake and rebuke another idiot." Good order prevailed during the rest of the service.

Mr. Humphrey Ward—Dr. Jowett.

The late Dr. Jowett is reported to have once said to Mrs. Humphrey Ward: "We shall come in the future to teach almost entirely by biography. We shall begin with the life that is most familiar to us, 'The life of Christ,' and we shall more and more put before our children the great examples of persons' lives so that they shall have from the beginning heroes and friends in their thoughts."

The editors of this magazine thoroughly agree with Dr. Jowett. It has been, for a long time, their great desire to publish in these pages a "Life of Christ" which shall be to quote Mr. Hall Caine's words in the December McClure's, "as vivid as a personal from the standpoint of belief as Renan's" was from the standpoint of unbelief."

Ever person, big, little, old or young, black or white, rich or poor, who has ever used Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey pronounces it the best cough and lung remedy on earth. It's true, too, so we guarantee. Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

We Are Known.

An author is known by his writing, a mother by her daughter, a fool by his words, and all men by their companions. The force of example is great. Evil communications corrupt good manner. Ill qualities are as catching as disease. Associate with mean people and it won't be long until you think all life is mean. Associate with those who are better than you are and know more, and your stock of virtue and knowledge cannot help but be increased. Owing to the shortness of life, it does not pay to spend much time in a missionary way, with those from whom you cannot extract any good thing. A bird of beautiful wings or sweet song would soon lose its influence, if it associated with a buzzard. A flower would soon become a thing of ill-repute if it allowed a continuous association with noxious weeds.—[Ex.]

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. I have used it repeatedly and it has done me good about upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osborn, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will cease to use the realizers of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." Dr. J. F. Kitchin, New York City.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
Dr. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but no where can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provision and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR Invested can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments in this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading. Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
